Conduct and liability:

- Direction gates and time recording control points are distributed across the entire route. Those must be passed for scoring. The gate flags are red & blue.
- The bib number must be worn throughout the race (also at the lifts). Anyone who takes off or disguises the bib number will be disqualified.
- The track marshals have yellow and red flags. A track marshal waving the yellow flag, indicates danger and the speed must be reduced. A track marshal waving the red flag, means to take a downhill turn immediately. Further instructions by the track marshals must be followed.
- Closed downhill runs are marked and clearly flagged with direction gates. Those gates must be crossed. The route between the gates is at the discretion of the individual.
- The turnstiles at the lifts can only be opened with a valid ski ticket.
- Getting off the T-bar early means disqualification!
- The FIS rules of conduct must be observed; meaning skiing with maximum attention, ready to stop any moment; every participant must adjust the speed according to his/her ability, and prevailing weather conditions and must not endanger other participants. When over taking, the required safety distance (one ski length) must be observed. When braking during skiing, stretch your hands out to the side. Operating rules must also be observed when using the lifts.
- Every participant takes part at his/her own risk. The event organiser does not assume any liability. The terms and conditions already accepted during registration apply! The participants must have their own sufficient liability, accident and rescue insurance. A membership in the ÖSV, Mountain Rescue, Alpine Association, etc., does cover such events.
- Please note that disorderly and unsportsmanlike conduct on the piste and at the lift accesses will lead to disqualification!

Terms and conditions of participation:

I accept the disclaimer by the event organiser, the organising association, the lift companies and the municipality for any damages. I shall not make any claims for any damages or injuries, arising from my participation in this event, against the event organiser, the organising association, the lift companies as well as the municipality or any of its representatives.

I declare that I have trained sufficiently for this competition, that I am physically fit and that the status of my health has been medically attested. Instructions by the track marshals with flags must be observed. A refund of the entry fee after registration is not possible. Every participant must report back in the finish area even if the participant does not complete the race.

Any stoppage of a lift to be used during the race does not entitle to a time credit.

By registering, I acknowledge that there is no accident and health insurance cover provided for me by the event organiser for the entire duration of the event, and that it is my responsibility to arrange the relevant insurance cover. I also acknowledge that my personal liability for damages is not covered by the event organiser. This means, in case I damage or injure a third person due to my participation in the race, I am fully liable for all damages.

I shall be skiing in a manner so not to endanger anyone – the FIS rules of conduct apply (here in particular controlling of speed and quality of skiing). Skiers who do not follow the official route will be disqualified without exception. Decisions made by the organising committee are binding and non-appealable.

The route is open to the general public during the inspection. This means, no skiing under race-like conditions (high speed) during the inspections and when the route is used by other third parties. Wearing a helmet is mandatory! Parents are liable for participating children under the age of 18. I declare that I also agree that personal data specified in the registration and photos, film footage and interviews of me may be used in radio, television, advertising, books, photo copies, internet, films, video tapes, etc. without any entitlement to remuneration.

I confirm that the data provided in the registration is correct and I shall not transfer my bib number to another person. I am aware that I will be disqualified if I modify the bib number in any way. This applies in particular to obscuring or making the advertising print unidentifiable (note pursuant to the Data Protection Act: your data will be automatically saved).

By signing this form, I confirm to have read and accept these terms and conditions of participation in full.
